Minimum Technological Requirements and Skills:

D2L: Students need a thorough understanding of the college's online learning management system (LMS), Desire to Learn (D2L). This includes being able to access the course homepage and navigating the tabs within the course. Students should also understand the Turnitin program and the Turnitin Similarity reports generated through electronic submission of writing assignments.*

Microsoft Word: Students are required to use Microsoft Word to compose and submit writing assignments (A free download for Office 365 is offered through the myNFC portal); therefore, students should have basic computer skills in order to navigate and complete this portion of the curriculum in a timely manner. The ability to correctly format essays in MLA and APA is a critical component to the course. ALL writing assignments are composed and submitted for grading electronically.*

Cengage: All ENC 1101 courses will have a graded online component through Cengage MindTap. This component consists of both readings and activities via the Cengage Mindtap English Handbook E-text.*

*For these reasons, it is most advantageous if students have a personal computer and Internet access at home. If they do not, students should plan on spending additional hours each week on campus (or somewhere with computer/Internet availability) in order to stay on the course pace and complete course activities. Students may also wish to contact the library for information on Verizon hotspots available for check out.

Grading Policy and Assessment Methods

Course Grading/Student Performance Evaluation:

15% - Cengage
35% - Writing Process/Other Assignments
50% - Final Essay Submissions (MLA and APA Essays)

Mid Term and/or Final Exam Information: Final Essays act as Mid Term and Final Exams

Grade Scale and Credit Requirements: In order to earn three credit hours for this course, students must earn an average grade of “C” or higher.

A = 100-89.5 B = 89.4 – 79.5 C = 79.4 – 69.5 D = 69.4 – 59.5 F = 59.4 and below

At minimum, students should check their course grades weekly.

Letter/Numerical Grade Philosophy for Writing Assignments:

It is rare to achieve a 100/A on writing assignments as a 100 equals perfection, and unlike math assignments where the answers are clearly objective, writing assignments have many components which make scoring more subjective. However, with the implementation of rubrics*, most writing scores have become less subjective. Still, sometimes there is variation of skill within certain criteria of the rubric which may cause variation in point value of that criteria. Rubrics help students to see more definitively the issues within their writing that need to be addressed and how their overall grade is determined.

The Writing Process and Revision:

This course is designed to give students a foundation in the writing process. At the college level, this process includes prewriting, research, note taking, drafting, revising, editing, and proofreading. For the research papers, this will include considerable time on revision. Revision is not merely looking for spelling and grammar errors; it is a process by which students adhere to feedback provided and examine their main ideas, evidence, and analysis. This may require students to add, delete, change and/or reorganize their writing. It requires critical thinking skills, time, and effort. This practice must take place in order for students to develop as writers, to become proficient at the college level, and ultimately to pass this course.

*Specific rubrics are used for the various stages of the writing process and will be made available when the assignment is given. See the last page of the syllabus for the final draft rubric used by the English department

Response time for posting of grades on D2L:

Grades from the Cengage activities are imported to the course via automation. Class assignment grades, writing process assignments, and essays will be graded and posted approximately 7-14 days after submission.

NFC Course Policy Statements

Course Expectations:

- Be on time
- Have regular access to a computer that meets minimum requirements.
- Use time wisely, be organized, be self-directed, and be willing to use new modes of communication and learning.
- Be willing to put in the needed time, read the text carefully, and actively participate in classroom and online activities.
- Check communication (course/email) frequently, get all assignments in on time, and discuss any concerns and questions with the instructor.
- Be respectful in all face to face and online interactions with peers and instructor (See below).

Course Engagement: In a classroom, students have the benefit of facial cues and inflection of voices as to determine tone and intention when communicating. Online communication is different. For example, in the texting world, we may use all caps or emojis to help clarify our intended emotions behind our words. However, this is not an option in an academic online setting. Please be mindful of this when communicating with classmates online. Peer reviews and discussion posts are a time to positively engage with, encourage, and even edify one another. Please be respectful at all times, but especially if you disagree with someone. Unfortunately, civil discourse is sorely lacking in our society, but it is both fostered and encouraged in this course. Being independent thinkers who are willing and able to listen to opposing viewpoints without animosity is the key to maintaining diversity of thought. Preserving diversity of thought is essential to maintaining a free and democratic society.

Academic Dishonesty

Statement about unauthorized collaboration: Students may not utilize work created by other students, non-students, or any form of artificial intelligence without permission. All ideas, images, or writing created by generative technology or by a person other than the student must be properly identified via appropriate citation format.

This course utilizes Turnitin on all major assignments to assist in the detection of plagiarism including the presence of AI generated writing. All major essay assignments must be submitted through the Turnitin-enabled dropboxes in D2L.

Disciplinary Procedure: Any assignment found to be in violation of the academic dishonesty policies stated in this syllabus and/or in the Student Code of Conduct either through software detection programs, such as Turnitin, or through any other evaluative tool will result in an automatic zero for the assignment and reporting of the incident to Academic Affairs.

Late Work

In General: There will be a deduction of 10 points for every day an assignment* is late for up to 3 days. If an assignment is later than 3 days, it WILL NOT BE ACCEPTED. The only exception is if a student provides official documentation of an illness that prohibited him/her from completing the assignment.

Discussion Posts: There are two components to most discussion posts- the post and the response. The discussion stays open for a certain amount of time. However, the post is due earlier than the response. If the post is not submitted by the required date, late points will be deducted. At the time the response is due, the discussion will close and no further posts or responses are allowed.

Rough Drafts: Paragraph and essay drafts must be submitted within the set timeframe in order to receive detailed peer and instructor feedback. Drafts submitted outside of the timeframe are subject to a deduction of 10 points for every day the draft is late for up to 3 days. If a draft is later than 3 days, it WILL NOT BE ACCEPTED. Students submitting drafts late may have to meet with the instructor during office hours to receive detailed feedback.

Final Drafts: The MLA final is subject to a deduction of 10 points for every day the draft is late for up to 3 days; after 3 days, it WILL NOT BE ACCEPTED. The APA Final MUST BE SUBMITTED ON TIME. NO LATE SUBMISSION ACCEPTED.

NFC Information and Policy Statements

Academic Honesty

NFC is committed to providing a high-quality educational experience to all students, and students are expected to follow appropriate and honest academic practices. This information is available in the Academic Regulations section of the college catalog at www.nfc.edu. All cases of academic dishonesty will be reported to the Office of Academic Affairs.

Instructors use www.turnitin.com to review papers and projects for improper citation and/or plagiarism by comparing each student's report against billions of internet pages, a repository of works submitted to Turnitin in the past, and thousands of academic sources. A comparison document called the Similarity Report details the areas of a student paper that may have been documented incorrectly or used improperly. Refer to instructor's course policy statements for usage details.

Attendance Policy

Regular and consistent attendance facilitates student success. Absences beyond the equivalent of two weeks of class are considered to be excessive and thus may impact a student's course grade. Typically, two weeks of class would be described as follows:

- For a three-credit hour class that meets MW or TR: 4 class meetings (2 weeks).
- For a three-credit hour class that meets once a week for three hours: 2 class meetings (2 weeks).

Students are responsible for material covered during their absence. Refer to instructor makeup policy.

If there is no verifiable participation within the first week of the term, a student will be dropped from the class for non-attendance. This includes classes delivered in face-to-face, online, or hybrid format. See instructor policy.

Textbook Purchases

All required course materials are listed in the Virtual Bookstore tab on NFC's homepage. Course materials purchased through Follett, NFC's only contracted vendor, can be charged against a student's financial aid account. Course materials may also be purchased from any other source with the understanding that these non-Follett purchases cannot be charged against a student's financial aid account.

Used Book Purchases

Students should check the Follett book list found in the Virtual Bookstore tab on NFC's homepage for correct titles and editions. Note: The ISBN listed in Follett may include both the required text and a required access code. When considering purchasing used books, students should be sure the purchase includes the ACCESS CODE in courses where required. If not, the access code must be purchased separately at an additional cost.

Students/Visitors: Where to Park on Campus

If you have any questions about parking on campus, contact Campus Security at (850) 973-0280. Park in designated parking spaces only. Do not park on the grass or in undesignated areas. Faculty/Staff parking areas are to be used only by full- and part-time employees of the college. Faculty and staff parking spaces are lined in yellow and are clearly marked "STAFF". Students and visitors can park in any spaces that are lined in white. NOTE: Some visitor parking spaces are lined in yellow with the word "Visitor" in the center. These are for visitors only. Students are not allowed to park in these spaces. Vehicles cannot be parked by backing into the space. Any vehicle that is illegally parked will be towed at the owner's expense. Refer to the college catalog or student handbook for all other parking regulations.

Enforcement: If a vehicle is parked illegally anywhere on campus, it is subject to be towed at the owner's expense ($85.00+). An illegally parked vehicle will be given a WARNING on the FIRST OFFENSE. There will be no second warning. Illegally parked vehicles will be TOWED ON THE SECOND OFFENSE. Signs will be displayed near parking areas with the name and address of the company to contact if the vehicle is towed.

The company that tows the vehicle is an independent company contracted by North Florida College. The College has no authority to negotiate towing fees and is not in any way responsible for damage or liability to the vehicle or its contents. The company that provides the towing service is:
